Stacks of metal trays and plastic chairs. To the left, there are boxes of Maes Cristal beer and Coca-Cola cans.

Three women are working at a long table covered with many white plates, each containing a small appetizer. One woman is standing and looking at her phone, while the other two are focused on preparing the food. The table is filled with rows of identical small dishes.

Stacks of metal trays and plastic chairs. On the wall, there are three signs with arrows pointing down, likely indicating the location of different types of trays or chairs. To the right, there are more stacks of trays and a metal cart with a blue container.
